SELF-GUIDED ACTIVITIES (during museum opening hours)

Ages 0 to 6 — Come and play in the mini-world

A hands-on play and cork discovery space for children aged 0 to 6.

- Included in the admission price.

Ages 4 and over — Search and find. Help us find the lost objects

Ask at reception for the illustration of the museums of the Girona counties and help us find all the objects that were lost when the exhibition changed.

- Included in the admission price.

Ages 6 and over — Science scavenger hunt. Do you want to fight climate change?

With a leaflet, you can take a self-guided visit through the museum to discover and experience the secrets of cork through interactive elements and microscopes, and learn how cork can be an ally.

AGENDA 2026

- Admission must be paid. A self-guided activity inside the museum, recommended for families with children aged 6 and over. Prior booking required for any day of the week during museum opening hours.
Ages 8 and over — Interactive game “Bel and the pieces of the revolution”
Bel and the Pieces of the Revolution is an ideal game for families curious about industrial heritage. Once you have answered the questions about Isabel Vilà, you can collect a prize at the museum reception. App available for iOS and Android. This interactive family game stars Bel, a chrononaut who travels through time and experiences thrilling episodes from our history. Help recover the pieces and rebuild the clock before the effects of the disappearances become permanent.
- Free activity to do independently outside and inside the museum using your own device.
Ages 10 and over — The Titanic case. Self-guided Cluedo outside the museum. An outdoor Cluedo around the museum for families and young people, to discover the role of women and the secrets of the cork world by solving a mystery.
- Free self-guided activity outside the museum, recommended for youth groups and families with children aged 10 and over. Prior booking required for any day during museum opening hours.
